
For Ruth

Lynda's Annual.

Lynda;

Well for just a small space I have alot to say. for one we've been friends for a long time and needless to say I will fill all of this space with our past expiriences and our loves. Just remember the fun we had in our soph. year and pretty soon we'll be having something only bettter, cause we'll be free and when that day comes I'm going to jump for joy. Anyway I won't wish you luck because I know you have all the luck, just take a look at all the boys in your school — moosy — I've never see so many tough guys in one building before. But all I've got to say is don't forget about me — way out in Kent — I'll write you; after all there's only nine mo. of school and away from little ol' me. AND for me that's just plain Hell. But you know after its all over it will seem like such a short time. So until next week and until we go see the Raiders — Bye-e and be good Don't do anything I wouldn't do, and you know me well enough to know too.!

Love ya

Ruth

Nathan Hale ran smoothly and efficiently due to the abilities of our administration. However, to each student Mr. Turner, Mr. Sayan, and Mr. Ellis have been more than just the "power elite". They do not dictate to the student body to resolve differences and to accomplish common goals.

Mr. Al McCallum, fourth from the left, represented the State Department of Education at our accreditation.

Accreditation was possibly the most important academic happening at Nathan Hale this year. It marked our coming of age as a high school. Miss Marie Davis, Accreditation coordinator, worked hard to prepare the school. Distinguished representatives from educational institutions all over the state came to give opinions about Nathan Hale's curriculum and facilities. The big day was October 23, 1965, when students and teachers in all departments displayed the best that our school had to offer. In early December Mr. Al McCallum, Olympia's Board of Education Director, gave his report to the Accreditation Committee in Spokane, and Nathan Hale faculty and student body alike breathed a collective sigh of relief.

Through hard work and dedication
this year's ASNH officers

Under the ASNH Constitution,
Student Council has been organized as the main legislative branch and center of all student-government relations.
A representative,
elected by his roll,
has the responsibility of participating in this body
and relating its actions to the roll room.
He is the voice of the student in the most significant phase of government at Nathan Hale.
It is from Student Council
that all legislation originates, making each student a part of our government
and giving him an opportunity to participate.

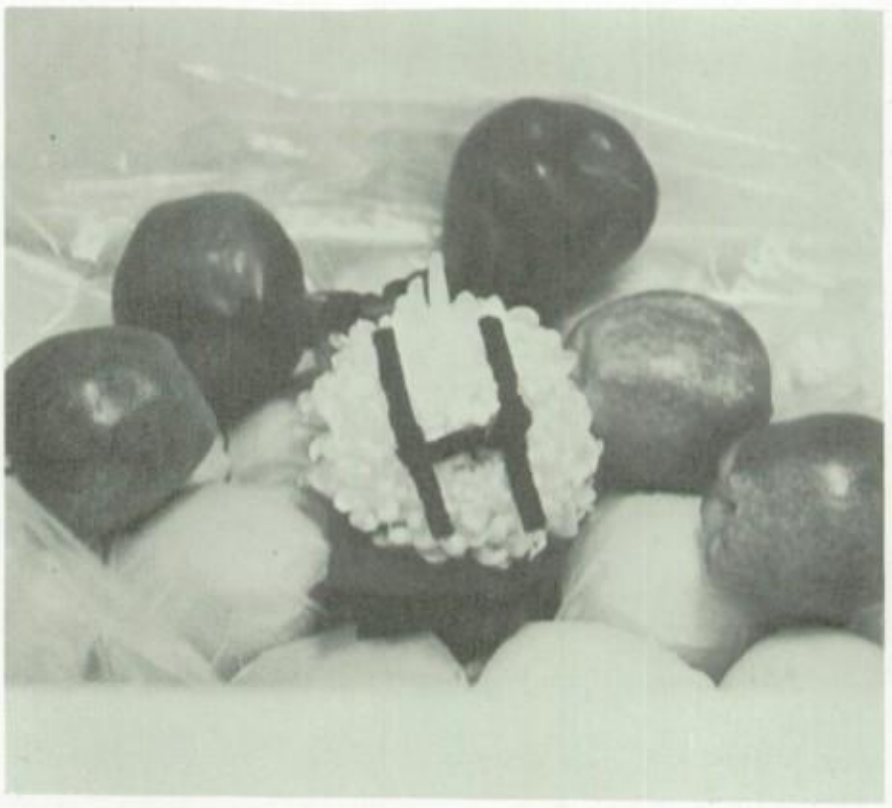
Joan Ritter, ASNH Secretary, Jan Morton, ASNH Vice-President, and Judi Carlson, Parliamentarian, prepare for Student Council meeting.



Business Managers aided the student council members in carrying on roll room business. One of their duties was to sell Homecoming corsages.

champions of

Nathan Hale finished the 1965 season with its most successful record to date.
Coach Hinrichs' team ended the regular season with a 5-2 record and a Northern Division co-championship.
Offensively, the Raiders displayed a "grind-it-out" attack.
A big, hard charging line backed up by quick and powerful backs pounded out 1,924 total yards.
Defensively, Hale combined a big line and a quick backfield that rationed yardage to opposing teams.
Hale started out great with a 6-0 win over West Seattle in the High School Jamboree,
and a week later, Shoreline was "victimized" 9-7.
The Raider offense went wild over Ballard, 27-6, but the winning streak was halted, 20-7 by Ingraham.
A week later, Queen Anne won 14-7, although the Raiders outplayed them.
Hale resumed its winning ways with a victory over Shorecrest, 19-0.
Next the Raiders made the season's greatest upset with a well-deserved win over Roosevelt, 7-6.
The regular season ended with an easy 28-6 victory over Lincoln, and a Northern Division Championship.
On Thanksgiving Day, the Raiders had a re-match with Queen Anne for the Metro title.
As before, the Grizzlies were outplayed, but key penalties
and fumbles ruined Hale's well-put-together drives.
The final score was Queen Anne 7, Nathan Hale 6.
Randy Wood was elected the inspirational award winner
after the team had finished a great season.

Returning with the seniors was Mike Leslie, the leading hitter in the Metro League last year. A sprinkling of talented sophomores and juniors filled some of the tough positions on the diamond. The team began turning out in March at Dahl Field. JV coach, Bob Moen, handled next year's varsity players.

For the second time in three years, Nathan Hale won the P.T.A. Swim Championship, edging past the other competitors with 192 points.

Another sport in which Hale was strong was golf. Although spectators could not attend matches and cheer the players on, they could see from the results, that Hale had a strong season.

Tennis provided lots of excitement this spring. Combining the polish and experience of seniors with the great potential of juniors and sophomores, the team was successful in upholding the honor of Nathan Hale.

The Hale Harlequins, with Roy Ketterer's supervision and students' direction, presented John Patrick's The Teahouse of the August Moon on December tenth and eleventh. While providing entertainment, the drama students learned the techniques of costuming, make-up, voice projection, and stage blocking. Mr. Van Dyke's stage crew worked with props and lighting to provide effective stage settings. The long hours of preparation and rehearsal resulted in a successful play which spoke well of Nathan Hale's active drama department.

The cast from The Teahouse of the August Moon included:

Sakini ..... Pat Fraley
Sergeant Gregovich ..... Burke Wallace
Col. Purdy Wainwright III .....John Skalka
Captain Fisby ..... Dennis Peterson
Captain McLean ..... John LaBeur
Lotus Blossom ..... Judy Motulsky, Holly Herzog
Old Woman ..... Judy Pingrey, Denelle Seaman

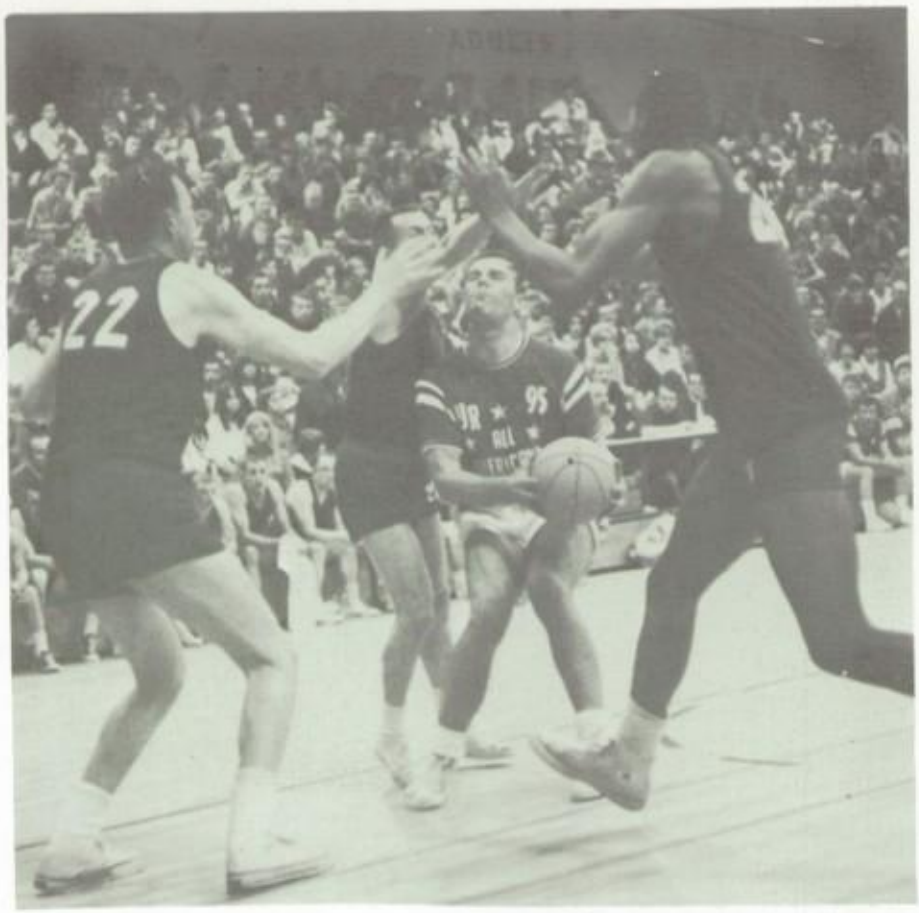
A contest was held to decorate the large Christmas tree in the Activity Center.

Top: Christmas was especially eventful. Santa Claus pictures were taken during lunches. Bottom: Competition was keen between classes during the Red Cross drive with the president of the "poorest" class spending lunch time in the stocks.

Yankee Doodle Days was one of the biggest events of the year. It consisted of a full week of activities topped off with a carnival and community dinner. Some of the events of the week of May 2-6 were a Kick-off assembly, a Bicycle Fun Day, a Costume day, and the Mother-Daughter Dessert.



As a fund-raising and fun event, a basketball game was staged with the teachers competing with the KJR All-Americans.

special events make the year memorable

In honor of George Washington's birthday the three classes sponsored a cherry pie eating contest.

A special honor for Hale was in May when the marching band ventured to Wenatchee for the Apple Blossom Festival.

school pride and spirit are exhibited through fund—raising projects

This year the student body
had several fund-raising projects.
These consisted of the magazine drive, candy cane sale,
and the year-long sale of pep pins, bookcovers, pom poms, and pens
during lunch.
During Yankee Doodle Days a dinner was co-sponsored by the Lake City Elks and Vigilantes.
Hot dogs, hamburgers, and scones were served.
The carnival atmosphere added much to the success of the dinner.
The classes also contributed to the treasury
with individual projects.
The Sophomore Class sponsored the pickle sale for Depression Day.
The Junior Class put on a candy sale at Christmas time.
The Senior Class sold football and basketball programs.
They sponsored the Santa Claus pictures
and also the Gardenia Day.

Happiness is beating deadlines.

Striving to record memorable occasions, the annual staff devoted time and energy to creating the 1966 Heritage. The preparation of the third volume began last spring with the selection of a new staff. Guided by the returning seniors, the new members learned the basics of annual production during classes after school. In the fall, the staff attended a workshop at the University of Washington. A theme was chosen, and with this as a foundation, the long hard hours of production began. Then the cover was designed, pictures were scheduled, layouts were planned, copy was written, and numerous other tasks were completed as the deadlines crept up. Behind closed doors, and under the supervision of Linda Steveley, editor, and Mr. Moan, adviser, the annual was completed at last.

CLASSES

Individuals vary,

each face in contrast

Still, mankind is unified

in an effort

to read the meaning of the world.

A befuddled class of sophomores entered Nathan Hale in September, stepping into a new environment of rotating schedules, program changes, and school activities. On September 1, the Assembly Planning Committee and Girls' Activities sponsored an orientation assembly to attempt to answer their many questions. Following the assembly, the Sophomores were given a tour of the building, which proved to be helpful on opening day.

The first important Sophomore Class activity was the election of officers. Their leaders chosen, the Sophomores went right to work. They sponsored a football feed in honor of the Turkey Day Game, and supported a Cherry Pie eating contest for George Washington's birthday.

The Sophomore Class also conducted the March of Dimes Campaign for the entire school.

The newly formed Sophomore Council originates ideas.

Junior Class Officers: Vice-President Bret Fidler, President Kathy See, Treasurer John Lenssen, Secretary Jeni Garrett, Adviser Robert Morris.

The class of '67
was enthusiastic and spirited
when it returned to Nathan Hale this fall.
Advised by Robert Morris,
the officers and cabinet planned
a successful year of activities.
The newly organized Junior Council promoted personal involvement and more class spirit
in activities.
Meeting monthly,
it encouraged a necessary
exchange of ideas.
Juniors sponsored several dances,
which were typical of junior activities
in originality and success.
Other class activities
included the very successful Christmas
candy cane sale and a Junior Breakfast.

The first class to complete three years at Nathan Hale Looked back on its senior year with mixed feelings.
There was the excitement of being able to wear a senior pin;
The joy of the first homecoming game and dance;
The mad rush of program selling, Santa Claus pictures,
And gardenia day to raise money for activities;
The realization that the semi-formal, "Silver Bells,"
Would be their last Christmas Ball; the flurry of measurements
For caps and gowns, and the difficulty of imagining
How it would feel to wear a big, bulky robe and little square hat;
The stardust glow of the prom, "Moonlight and Roses";
The thrill of being the first ones to receive annuals
And to miss a morning of school for that great breakfast
Atop the Space Needle; and finally Commencement—
An end and a beginning.

. . . on the threshold of a new world.

Once in carefree youth I laughed

and felt the sweet security of companionship,

and the whole world echoed with my aliveness.

The years have made me a little wiser—

but the world is still mine to conquer.

Yet, I alone must be the victor.

I, alone, must face the challenge

and endure the conflict

in trying to discover the essence

of this existence

Linda-
I am glad I introduced myself
to you in the 'can'
that day. You are really a sweet girl & I hope we can do alot together this summer. I really do. You live so close to me so come over anytime & we can go swimming.
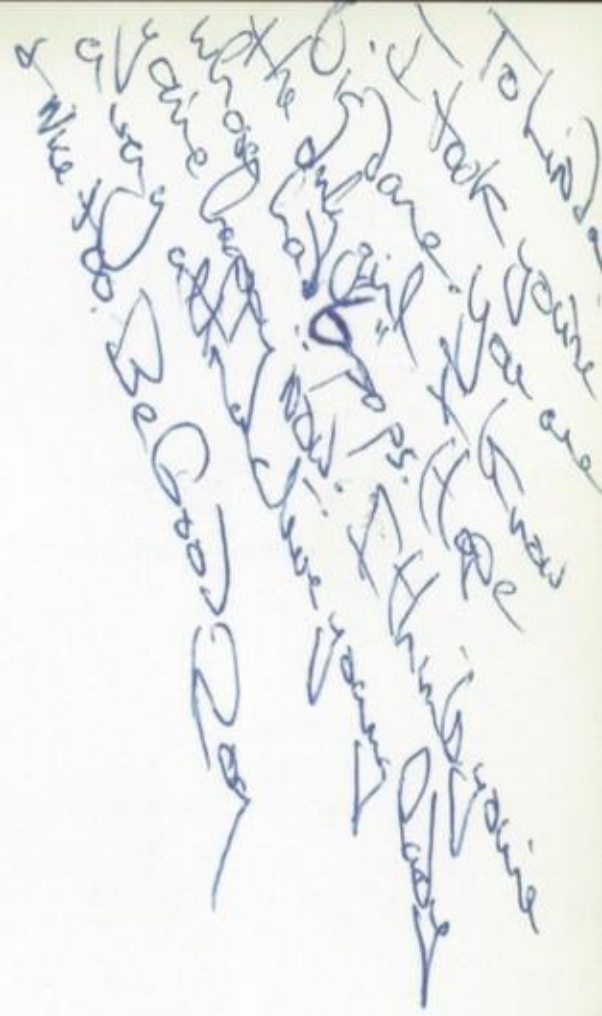
Lots of luck in the years to follow
Love Julie Walters



Linda-
Have a good summer yet.
Well anyway, it's been real exciting. Glad that we got to know each other a little bit. Hope to see you this summer sometime.
Well I'll be off for now.
Take care & good luck
Love Bonnie Langford

Linda,
You are great.
I will never forget
the time Rainelle
and I were drinking
and you were by us.
I'm sure glad I got to know you. Hope we can get together sometime. Have a great summer and keep the beverages away. {Kidding of course} live it up so don't forget that. Good luck always. Bless you & love
Peter

Linda,

This year has been just great. I'm glad I got to know you. This summer is going to be a gas with our boats & cars! Ever night we'll live it up! OK? Wip down to the "BURG"! (Every night & every day the beach!) Now we're seniors & we can do what we please! You're one of the cutest & sweetest girls I know. Love

Cindy

Linda ———

Hi! Welp now we're big Seniors (B.E.D.) Remember the times up at you're house. We never did seem to go through with anything Planned! Have lots of fun this summer & come over & see me somtime.

Love ya & lots of luck
In the future
Linda Eiche

Lynda, It's sure been fun knowing ya. You have this really nice uncle who has nice cars & house too. Hmm. really nice summer. Ya'll come visit & we'll find some fun to get into. Love Jack

Have fun working at Kmart & maybe buy some gas & have some fun. Be good & see ya in the future & keep your grades up.

Lynda, I'll be only time I remember talking to you was when we were going around with Jim C. or Bob H. but that was a little time. That's enough to know that you're a real cute girl, so stay that way & have a good time this summer. Always, John.

Through time we'll each go our way,
But still there'll be ties that will stay
For we'll all remember the years we loved
And the school our hearts hold dear.

For pride for your honor, for truth,
We pledge our full faith in you.
For your spirit true, you've much honor due;
We salute you, Nathan Hale!

No man is an island
and needs people
Linda I think you are a good kid if you would only
be true to yourself
love ya
the kid (Jeff)

Jeff smells good

Hi Linda
Man we've really had a blast this year (out of school)
you're one of my best friends
the summer Cindy & you will have a beer blast. I'm not sure what to write but I have to fill up the page. Remember Bear. Stopping my car!
and all that Thru good stuff.

No kidding

like you!

Love

LINDA

Been really cool knowing you
See ya next year
Lots of Love Linda
